

MONITORING THE CRPD

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) is an international agreement that promotes and protects human rights for people with disabilities. The Canadian Human Rights Commission is responsible for monitoring how the CRPD is being followed in Canada.

HOW YOU WANT TO BE ENGAGED

In June and July 2020, the Commission asked people across Canada about how they want to be involved in this important work, and what they think is important.

66% INTERESTED IN BEING INVOLVED IN MONITORING WORK

SUPPORTS NEEDED TO BE ABLE TO TAKE PART IN MONITORING

-  TRAINING
-  FINANCIAL RESOURCES
-  COMMUNICATION SUPPORTS

ROLES YOU COULD SEE YOURSELF PLAYING

- STAYING INFORMED AND UP TO DATE ON THE MONITORING PROCESS
- REVIEW DRAFTS OF FINAL REPORTS
- REVIEW DATA THAT WAS GATHERED

MOST USEFUL OUTPUTS

-  STORIES
ABOUT PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

-  VISUAL INFORMATION
LIKE VIDEOS OR BROCHURES

-  REPORTS

